WILSON PRESENTS ANGLO-FRENCH PACT TO SENATE

SAYS TREATY IS ONLY TEMPORARY TO SERVE UNTIL LEAGUE PLAN IS IN FULL OPERATION

URGES IMMEDIATE RATIFICATION

By L. C. MARTIN

(United Press Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, July 29.—"America is bound by its debt to France to ratify the agreement pledging military and financial aid in the event of an unprovoked attack by Germany," President Wilson told the Senate today in submitting the text of the British-French-American treaty. He did not go to the capitol but made his plea in the form of a written message to the Senate. He explained the situation with regard to France to be in such shape that a "special temporary pact" was needed to protect her and that Britain and the United States volunteered to go to her assistance anticipating the ratification of the league of nations covenant and that this temporary agreement was to fill the void between the signing of the peace and the ultimate signing of the league covenant. He made it plain that the "special temporary pact" would become operative just as soon as the league machinery began to function. He declared that "no doubt, expressed or implied, was held by France as to the efficacy of the league as a protective organization," but added, "the years ahead of us contain many incalculable possibilities."

Summing up Mr. Wilson said, "the United States owes France a special debt of gratitude which we can never fully repay," but the signing of this treaty is an expression of our gratitude over the assistance France gave us in obtaining our independence."

The President took occasion to urge ratification of not only this pact but early ratification of the peace treaty and the league covenant as well.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—President Wilson has made a move in the direction of acceding to senatorial demands. He will today present to the Senate the text of the proposed British-French-American defensive agreement, it was announced at the White House. He will not go to the capitol but will send to the Senate a short message with the text which will be read by one of the Senate clerks.

The President's proposed trip across the continent in the interest of the league will require approximately thirty days, it is said here today, and the itinerary which has been scheduled, includes speeches in at least twenty-five principal cities although the date of departure has not been set. It is said at the White House that the President is good but that he does not want to overtax his strength and will wait until he is in the prime of condition. If the date is postponed until August 15th at which time the Pacific fleet is to arrive at San Francisco, the presidential review of the fleet will have to be given up.

THE FARM TRACTOR DEMONSTRATION IS DRAWING INTEREST

Some folks may not know that there are about 220,000 farms in Pennsylvania, large and small, improved and unimproved. But the real interesting fact from a farm tractor standpoint is that there are about 75,000 farms in the state having enough acres of sufficiently level land to warrant the use of tractors. A tractor to each one of these farms would be a total of 75,000 tractors, which at an average cost of $1,000 each would total an investment of $75,000,000.

Sounds pretty big!

But let's see.

If each tractor would displace three horses, and on some farms tractors are today displacing more than three horses each, those 75,000 farms would get rid of 225,000 horses, worth $200 each, or a total of $45,000,000 to offset the $75,000,000 investment. Count further the feed thrown into horses when they are not working, the freeing of thousands of acres of land that now grow horse feed for producing human food, the saving of our most expensive commodity human labor, the fact that the tractor doesn't get tired—the hotter the sun the better it works—and can go all night if necessary thus getting crops in ON TIME and that $75,000,000 investment doesn't look so large after all.

The change will come slowly, but surely nevertheless. A good many farmers kicked on the automobile, calling it an extravagance. Now the only ones kicking are those not having them.

The forshanded man, the one who sees the hand writing on the wall and can decipher it, will not be ashamed to want to learn all he can about tractors while the opportunity offers, so he will plan to be at Harrisburg August 12-13, or at Butler August 21-22. At these places will be held the only two big tractor demonstrations in Pennsylvania this year.

The Committee in charge announces that over 25 different makes of tractors have already been entered. This coupled with the further announcement of an exhibit of tractor cultivators, seed-bed fitting tools, etc., together with an exhibit of tractor parts, bearings, carburetors, radiators, air-strainers, etc., etc., assure the most complete educational tractor demonstrations ever held anywhere.

All interests are working together to make the shows first-class in every respect. Farmers need only come and see. The exhibitions will be complete in every detail when they get there. They are assured at this early date because tractor men and others are all working together to make them top-notch in every respect.

IT WAS POWERFUL STUFF

A big, husky, jaggy-looking porcupine wandered down off the mountains into the Third Ward yesterday afternoon and was spied by little Miss Helen Snavely as he meandered about a neighbor's back yard.

The little lady was much excited over her discovery and after racing the "porkie" up a tree soon had every kid in the community on hand to look the intruder over.

A couple of venturesome boys headed the animal down off the tree and into a box, while some of the fearful old people hid behind the corner of the house waiting for the animated pin cushion to hurl a few of his spines about promiscuously. Like Judas Iscariot when he dug for clams, the "porkie" didn't "throw" a gosh darned quill.

Where the denizen of the wilds came from is a mystery, but "Comrade" Thompson gave it as his opinion that the pesky animal was off Crooked Run and had followed his neighbor Tommy Adams' trail home. Comrade said Tommy and his friends who visited Crooked Run last week used a patent preservative on their fish, and when the porkie got a taste of it he followed the trail into town for more and marched right up to Adams' back door before the kids spied him.

FORMER RESIDENT MARRIED TODAY

Mrs. Arthur Scarborough, a former West Side resident, whose husband was crushed to death in the New York Central yards at Niagara Falls, N. Y., in October, 1918, was married at Kenmore, N. Y., today to the Rev. Arthur Partington, formerly of Corning, N. Y., but located at Kenmore.

WINDY CITY RACE RIOT CASUALTIES MOUNT TO NINETEEN

CHICAGO, ILL., July 29.—The casualty list from the Chicago race riot early today stood at 19 dead and 150 wounded and while authorities claim that they have the situation in hand the conditions are bad and fighting continues. Seven of the dead are negroes and twelve are whites, while the number of wounded is about evenly divided among the whites and blacks. Two negroes were killed in the "loop" district this morning. The wounded men are suffering from gun shot wounds, stabs and unmerciful beatings.

This afternoon comparatively quiet reigned in the city with the police in control. Rioting had petered out to a few wide-scattered fist fights. In the black belt the streets were quiet, the residents staying behind closed blinds and the business houses were closed.

ALL STREET CARS IDLE IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, ILL., July 29.—Chicago was caught today in a surprise strike of traction company employees when at 4:15 A. M. every car, both on the surface and elevated lines, was idle. The strike order came out shortly after midnight when, after a riotous meeting of carmen in which the radicals gained control, the compromise engineered by Governor Louden was rejected. The compromise agreement would have gained an increase of twenty cents per hour for the car men but the radical element is holding out for the full extent of the demands. The tie-up is complete. At 4:15 every car was either in its barn or laying on its track in the car yards.

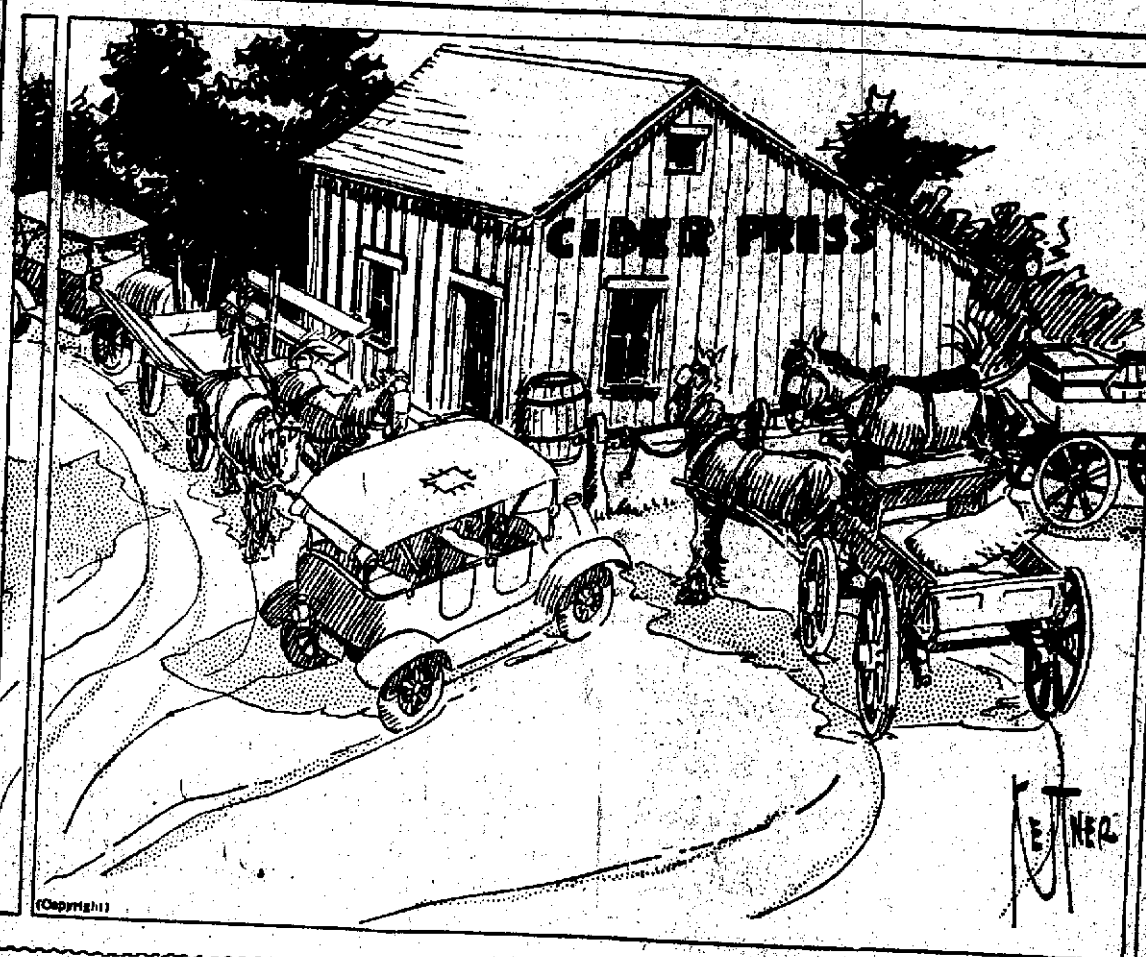

POLK ARRIVES IN PARIS TO TAKE LANSING POST

Polk may have in his possession some papers expressing the desires of President Wilson in the settlement of the Thrace problem which has been holding up the completion of the Bulgarian treaty.

MICKIE SAYS

VEIN OF HUMOR IN SENATE SCRAPPING

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Occasional flashes of humor lighten the seriousness of the senate league of nations battle. Here are three stories the league debate is responsible for.

Senator Williams, Miss., was complaining that though the league covenant was not all the United States desired, it was all we could expect under the circumstances.

"Which reminds me of my little girl," he said. "One had straight hair, while the other had curly hair. The straight-haired one was envious of her sister's ringlets, and often used to grumble because her own tresses refused to curl."

"One day the curly haired one was grumbling about some fancied hair ship, and he sister rebuked her thus: 'Well, you know, you can't have everything AND curly hair.'"

And Senator Knox, shaking his head over glowing predictions of the way the United States is to lift wealth from their lowly condition said:

"That makes me think of the drunkard who was lying in the gutter; unable to rise. Nobody paid any attention to him until another, not quite so drunken, came along, and asked what was the matter."

"I can't get up," said the reeling one.

"I'll pick you up," volunteered the other, and suiting the action to the word, he tugged and pulled, but succeeded only in toppling himself over.

"Tell you, friend, he said finally, 'I can't get you up, but here's what I will do—I'll lie down with you.'"

Senator Swanson was discussing what will happen to those senators who oppose the league.

"They'll fare like the plowboy," said Swanson. "He was plowing his field when an inquisitive passerby asked him how much wages he received."

"Wages?" said the boy. "I don't get no wages. I get nothin' if I do, and hell if I don't."

HELEN FARGO A BRIDE

Friends and relatives of Miss Helen Fargo were very much surprised on receiving announcement of her marriage to Wilfred Schlake, of Indianapolis, Ind. Miss Fargo will be remembered as the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fargo of Turnpike avenue. After finishing High School here she entered West Pennsylvania training school for nurses, from which she graduated with honor and worked at her profession until the U. S. entered the world war, when she enlisted in the Emergency Red Cross for overseas duty and was chosen as one of the first units to go with General Pershing. She has the splendid record of never having lost a day from duty for nearly two years.

Clearfield people will be unanimous in congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Schlake.

MOTHER'S PENSIONS THIRD WARD BOYS $5220 PER YEAR FIVE FINE TH

The Clearfield County Mothers' Pension Board met at the Court House today and acted upon many business propositions.

The recent legislature appropriated something over $5300 for Clearfield county and the schedule for the distribution of this fund among deserving mothers of the county was arranged today.

The Mothers' Pension Board has been doing a wonderful work in Clearfield county but has been badly handicapped for want of funds, and even now have many more applications than they are prepared to adequately take care of.

All members were present at today's meeting, the membership consisting of the following well known ladies: President, Mrs. Samuel McLaughlin; Mrs. A. E. Lettinger; Mrs. L. C. Norris; Clearfield; Mrs. W. C. Fugate, Mahanoy; Mrs. W. A. Gould, Schuylkill; Mrs. E. I. Morris and Mrs. D. E. Hibner, Dauphin; Mrs. Helen; E. Livingston, of Clearfield, is Secretary of the Board.

The Mothers' Pension law provides that the county shall appropriate an amount equal to what the State allows for this purpose. Therefore the county Commissioners patched the state appropriation this year when the result that there will be $5220 available for the Mothers' Pension Board in Clearfield county during each of the coming two years.

Up to today there were twenty-eight mothers receiving monthly aid from the Board. At today's meeting fourteen more were placed upon the list while the applications of twenty others are filed for investigation.

The increase in this year's appropriation is due in considerable measure to the ravages of the flu last fall and winter.

The recent festival and victory parade, under the auspices and direction of the Third Ward Home Owners' Association, was one of the most successful occasions ever held by the regular body of women.

The amusements were held on a beautiful lawn in front of the new house on West Front street and more than one thousand people were present to participate. Foreman Baum had a "live wire" committee in charge and they left nothing undone that would add to the enjoyment of the guests.

Ice cream, cake and coffee were daintily served by the ladies, while excellent musical program interspersed the social making.

The West Side Sunday School Chorus added greatly to their already fine reputation by the excellent program they rendered during the evening, while Miss Maude Phillips presided most acceptably at the piano as a member of the special functions. Mrs. W. E. Schaeffer was the efficient director.

This service opened at 8:15 with a devotional by the orchestra, which was followed by a vocal solo by Miss Helen Turner, who sang "I'm Always Blowing Bubbles." The little hostess presented an exceptionally sweet voice and made a distinct hit with the fine singing.

Rev. J. E. Gearhart then delivered an impressive invocation, at the conclusion of which the Victory flag was hoisted to the top of the 60 foot pole by Miss Mabel Phillips, Elmer Shaw and John Deitz. An "Ode to Glory" recited by the Victory Chorus of the Star Spangled Banner, and a song by the same group, completed the service.

The band, led by Captain J. E. Gearhart, then delivered a stirring rendition of "The Star Spangled Banner" and "The Victory March." The band was composed of the following: J. E. Gearhart, Elmer Shaw, John Deitz, and the Victory Chorus. The band was led by Captain J. E. Gearhart.

GOVERNMENT SUPPLIES A POOR SALE
The War Department has for some time been engaged in selling carloads of canned meats and vegetables to communities for re-sale to their citizens. DuBois went into the proposition very thoroughly thru their Community Association and solicited orders in case lots from the people of the community. The Community Association was delegated by the city council to handle the matter and the action of the council grew out of the insistence on the part of the people. An avalanche of orders was expected but thus far the Association has received orders for only twelve cases and the whole matter will likely be dropped. Meanwhile Mr. and Mrs. DuBois just like Mr. and Mrs. Clearfielder goes on kicking about the high cost of living but fails to study the market for lowest prices and do not want to take the time to order in case lots or possibly have to go to a car to get their purchases. How we like to complain and how helpless we are in our efforts to help ourselves.

A FEW WORDS FROM A BUSINESS MAN TO BUSINESS MEN
The city editor of the Los Angeles Examiner sent a reporter to interview the head of a business firm which is making a great success with its trade in South America, China and India.
The reporter got three minutes of the man's time and a column story.
Into that three minutes and that column was crowded a good deal of worth-while information and sound advice.
The soundest of the advice was this: "WHEN THERE IS A BIG THING TO GO AFTER AND YOU CAN'T GO YOURSELF, SEND A BETTER MAN."
One of the great mistakes of business is trying to save money. Trying to make a cheap man do a good man's job.
Many a sale has been lost; many a profit has been thrown away because the man sent to do the job wasn't as big as the job required.
In the ordinary walks of life you hire a man to do something because of one of two reasons: Either you do not want to do it better than you can.
The man you pay to cobble your shoes is a better shoemaker than you are.
The man who paints your house is a better painter.
The man who drives your automobile is a better chauffeur.
Why, then, should you hire a man to do business for you who knows less about it than you do?
This does not mean that young men should not be taken in and trained in your business. That is a necessity. But one of New York's best known business men coined for himself and his associates this advice: "You must suit the man to the job, not the job to the man."
The Los Angeles merchant was right, and he has proved it by his success, when he said: "When there is a big thing to go after and you can't go yourself, send a better man."

Germans Trying To Ignore the War

Her Imperial Spy System Is Turned Over To The New Republic--Now Attempting Peaceful Penetration

(By United Press)
PARIS. (By Mail).—Germany is seeking to pick up just where she left off in July 1914, and politically, industrially, commercially and economically is trying to act as though the war had never been.
Brazil, the Argentine and all South America may well keep their eyes trained on what is left of the German Empire, for strange stories have reached Paris regarding the goings-on of agents of the new Socialist Republic.
1. They are colonizing Spain as rapidly as they are able.
2. They are buying up land and obtaining various kinds of options in Holland.
3. They are seeking to spread Bolshevik propaganda throughout Allied and friendly countries, using Switzerland as a base.
4. In the Argentine and elsewhere south of the American Equator, they are seeking a foothold in most insidious fashion.
The entire spy organization which existed in Switzerland during the war and which served as the instrument of the German General Staff, has been turned over to the new German government, lock, stock and barrel and now, after a period of inaction, is busier than ever on their new scheme.
Count Brockdorff-Rantzau once said that Bolshevism is a splendid "article of export" for Germany. The organization in Switzerland is attempting that very thing—to export Bolshevism.
"Le Matin's" correspondent telegraphs to his paper that he is in a position to state that a conference was recently held in Zurich at which were present:
Lieutenant Schloss, well known for his work during the war as one of the chiefs of Imperial German General Headquarters; a secretary of the German Legation in Bern; the famous Maroun former Consular Agent in the German service at Agadir, who, throughout the duration of the war, was active in behalf of the German General Staff among the peoples of Islam; the Bolshevik agent, Aaron, an Israelite, naturalized Brazilian; a former Bulgarian agent, named Cohen, married to a French woman.
"This organization," says the correspondent "has at its disposal a large amount of money. It is known that the funds of the Unionist band of Enver Talat, transferred to Switzerland, amount to more than a hundred million francs. To this must be added funds from both the Bolsheviks and the Germans.
"The attention of Aaron is directed principally in the direction of Italy.
"The Islamic propaganda is aimed rather against Algeria and Tunis.
"In short, the government of Schiedemann is continuing the same methods and is practicing the same game of political intrigue as the old Imperial government."
Similar stories have reached France from Spain. The old spy system is in full swing today trying to turn the present political situation in that country to the Teuton's advantage.
Special correspondence from Amsterdam declares that Holland is being absolutely invaded by Germans. "German spies," the special correspondent of a Paris paper declared, "are pouring into Holland just as before the war. On one page of an important local daily newspaper I counted ten German advertisements out of a total of 14."
"During the war," the same writer continued, "the Germans bought the principal sites in large cities for the purpose of putting up cinemas and theatres. And when a Dutch subject opened an exposition of an international character where samples of commercial products were to be exhibited the year round, a German immediately offered to buy up all the space for 50,000 florins so that he might control the exhibits."
South America is not going to escape German influence. Every indication is that the Germans are only waiting until the ink is dry on the peace treaty before making a start in that direction. A dispatch dated from Coblenz, American Army Headquarters, reads: "Letter after letter is passing through the hands of the American military censors telling of the intentions of many Germans to emigrate to South America. Seldom is any mention made in any of them of plans to go to the United States."

AN APPEAL TO THE CHURCH MEMBERS

Woodland, Pa., July 28, 1919.

You, the members of all the churches, have hired your preachers to proclaim unto you the everlasting gospel, and lead you in the way of godliness. You expect your preacher to hold revival meetings in the winter season and win men from sin to God. Yet many of the church people are constantly making the spread of the righteousness that is by faith impossible by their own works. I speak with regard to what is constantly flung in the teeth of the preachers concerning the desecration of the Sabbath in the picking of huckleberries. Last week a note in The Progress described the huckleberry picking in certain places and added that all churches were represented. Such was the case. Now my friends of all churches, I shall not preach against this as I have been requested to do. But I wish thru the courtesy of The Progress to ask you if it is fair to your preacher, to desecrate the Sabbath in this way and have him preach the sermon that he has prepared in this hot weather, to a few people and many empty pews? Is it fair to the church that you misrepresent in the huckleberry woods on the Sabbath? Is it fair to your own immortal soul. Is it fair to your neighbor to put self

If God was displeased with the children of Israel who gathered manna on the Sabbath day, think you that he will be pleased with the member of the church of Jesus Christ who gathers huckleberries on the Sabbath day? EYE TALK NO. 1

ONE PAIR OF EYES

In a lifetime. Don't neglect or abuse them. Your eyes may need attention. If so go to a competent optometrist and have them thoroughly examined, and get glasses. A good pair of glasses properly fitted will relieve headaches and nerve strain, and when accurately adjusted will bring the desired relief and comfort. The price of glasses varies according to the formula of your lenses. Some require more work to grind or make up than others. But remember, a pair of glasses not properly fitted to the eyes will harm them, no matter what the price may be.

I devote my entire attention to fitting glasses, thereby reducing the cost and not dividing the responsibility that is a part of every pair of right-fitting glasses. My modern equipment enables me to save you money, time and eyes.

WILSON PRESENTS ANGLO-FRENCH PACT TO SENATE

SAYS TREATY IS ONLY TEMPORARY TO SERVE UNTIL LEAGUE PLAN IS IN FULL OPERATION

URGES IMMEDIATE RATIFICATION

By L. C. MARTIN

(United Press Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, July 29.—"America is bound by its debt to France to ratify the agreement pledging military and financial aid in the event of an unprovoked attack by Germany," President Wilson told the Senate today in submitting the text of the British-French-American treaty. He did not go to the capitol but made his plea in the form of a written message to the Senate. He explained the situation with regard to France to be in such shape that a "special temporary pact" was needed to protect her and that Britain and the United States volunteered to go to her assistance anticipating the ratification of the league of nations covenant and that this temporary agreement was to fill the void between the signing of the peace and the ultimate signing of the league covenant. He made it plain that the "special temporary pact" would become operative just as soon as the league machinery began to function. He declared that "no doubt, expressed or implied, was held by France as to the efficacy of the league as a protective organization," but added, "the years ahead of us contain many incalculable possibilities."

Summing up Mr. Wilson said, "the United States owes France a special debt of gratitude which we can never fully repay," but the signing of this treaty is an expression of our gratitude over the assistance France gave us in obtaining our independence."

The President took occasion to urge ratification of not only this pact but early ratification of the peace treaty and the league covenant as well.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—President Wilson has made a move in the direction of acceding to senatorial demands. He will today present to the Senate the text of the proposed British-French-American defensive agreement, it was announced at the White House. He will not go to the capitol but will send to the Senate a short message with the text which will be read by one of the Senate clerks.

The President's proposed trip across the continent in the interest of the league will require approximately thirty days, it is said here today, and the itinerary which has been scheduled, includes speeches in at least twenty-five principal cities although the date of departure has not been set. It is said at the White House that the President is good but that he does not want to overtax his strength and will wait until he is in the prime of condition. If the date is postponed until August 15th at which time the Pacific fleet is to arrive at San Francisco, the presidential review of the fleet will have to be given up.

THE FARM TRACTOR DEMONSTRATION IS DRAWING INTEREST

Some folks may not know that there are about 220,000 farms in Pennsylvania, large and small, improved and unimproved. But the real interesting fact from a farm tractor standpoint is that there are about 75,000 farms in the state having enough acres of sufficiently level land to warrant the use of tractors. A tractor to each one of these farms would be a total of 75,000 tractors, which at an average cost of $1,000 each would total an investment of $75,000,000.

Sound pretty big! But let's see. If each tractor would displace three horses, and on some farms tractors are today displacing more than three horses each, those 75,000 farms would get rid of 225,000 horses, worth $200 each, or a total of $45,000,000 to offset the $75,000,000 investment. Count further the feed thrown into horses when they are not working, the freeing of thousands of acres of land that now grow horse feed for producing human food, the saving of our most expensive commodity human labor, the fact that the tractor doesn't get tired—the hotter the sun the better it works—and can go all night if necessary thus getting crops in ON TIME and that $75,000,000 investment doesn't look so large after all.

The change will come slowly, but surely nevertheless. A good many farmers kicked on the automobile, calling it an extravagance. Now the only ones kicking are those not having them.

The forerunner man, the one who sees the hand writing on the wall and can decipher it, will not be ashamed to want to learn all he can about tractors while the opportunity offers, so he will plan to be at Harrisburg August 12-13, or at Butler August 21-22. At these places will be held the only two big tractor demonstrations in Pennsylvania this year.

The Committee in charge announces that over 25 different makes of tractors have already been entered. This coupled with the further announcement of an exhibit of tractor cultivators, seed-bed fitting tools, etc., together with an exhibit of tractor parts, bearings, carburetors, radiators, air-strainers, etc., etc., assure the most complete educational tractor demonstrations ever held anywhere.

All interests are working together to make the shows first-class in every respect. Farmers need only come and see. The exhibitions will be complete in every detail when they get there. They are assured at this early date because tractor men and others are all working together to make them top-notch in every respect.

IT WAS POWERFUL STUFF

A big, husky, jaggy-looking porcupine wandered down off the mountains into the Third Ward yesterday afternoon and was spied by little Miss Helen Snively as he meandered about a neighbor's back yard.

The little lady was much excited over her discovery and after racing the "porkie" up a tree soon had every kid in the community on hand to look the intruder over.

A couple of venturesome boys headed the animal down off the tree and into a box, while some of the fearful old people hid behind the corner of the house waiting for the animated pin cushion to hurl a few of his spines about promiscuously. Like Judas Iscariot when he dug for clams, the "porkie" didn't "throw" a gosh darned quill.

Where the denizen of the wilds came from is a mystery, but "Comrade" Thompson gave it as his opinion that the pesky animal was off Crooked Run and had followed his neighbor Tommy Adams' trail home. Comrade said Tommy and his friends who visited Crooked Run last week used a patent preservative on their fish, and when the porkie got a taste of it he followed the trail into town for more and marched right up to Adams' back door before the kids spied him.

WINDY CITY RACE RIOT CASUALTIES MOUNT TO NINETEEN

CHICAGO, ILL., July 29.—The casualty list from the Chicago race riot early today stood at 19 dead and 150 wounded and while authorities claim that they have the situation in hand the conditions are bad and fighting continues. Seven of the dead are negroes and twelve are whites, while the number of wounded is about evenly divided among the whites and blacks. Two negroes were killed in the "loop" district this morning. The wounded men are suffering from gun shot wounds, stabs and unmerciful beatings.

This afternoon comparatively quiet reigned in the city with the police in control. Rioting had petered out to a few wide-scattered fist fights. In the black belt the streets were quiet, the residents staying behind closed blinds and the business houses were closed.

ALL STREET CARS IDLE IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, ILL., July 29.—Chicago was caught today in a surprise strike of traction company employees when at 4:15 A. M. every car, both on the surface and elevated lines, was idle. The strike order came out shortly after midnight when, after a riotous meeting of carmen in which the radicals gained control, the compromise engineered by Governor Louden was rejected. The compromise agreement would have gained an increase of twenty cents per hour for the car men but the radical element is holding out for the full extent of the demands. The tie-up is complete. At 4:15 every car was either in its barn or laying on its track in the car yards.

VEIN OF HUMOR IN SENATE SCRAPPING

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, July 29.—Occasional flashes of humor lighten the seriousness of the senate league of nations battle. Here are three stories the league debate is responsible for.

Senator Williams, Miss., was complaining that though the league covenant was not all the United States desired, it was all we could expect under the circumstances.

"Which reminds me of my little girl," he said. "One had straight hair, while the other had curly hair. The straight-haired one was envious of her sister's ringlets, and often used to grumble because her own tresses refused to curl."

"One day the curly haired one was grumbling about some fancied hair ship, and he sister rebuked her thus: 'Well, you know, you can't have everything AND curly hair.'"

And Senator Knox, shaking his head over glowing predictions of the way the United States is to lift wealth from their lowly condition said:

"That makes me think of the drunkard who was lying in the gutter; unable to rise. Nobody paid any attention to him until another, not quite so drunken, came along, and asked what was the matter."

"I can't get up," said the recumbent one.

"I'll pick you up," volunteered the other, and suiting the action to the word, he tugged and pulled, but succeeded only in toppling himself over.

"Tell you, friend," he said finally. "I can't get you up, but here's what I will do—I'll lie down with you."

Following is the program for Tuesday and Wednesday:

MICKIE SAYS

HELEN FARGO A BRIDE

Friends and relatives of Miss Helen Fargo were very much surprised on receiving announcement of her marriage to Wilfred Schlake, of Indianapolis, Ind. Miss Fargo will be remembered as the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fargo of Turnpike avenue. After finishing High School here she entered West Pennsylvania training school for nurses, from which she graduated with honor and worked at her profession until the U. S. entered the world war, when she enlisted in the Emergency Red Cross for overseas duty and was chosen as one of the first units to go with General Pershing. She has the splendid record of never having lost a day from duty for nearly two years.

Clearfield people will be unanimous in congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Schlake.

Senator Swanson was discussing what will happen to those senators who oppose the league.

"They'll fare like the plowboy," said Swanson. "He was plowing his field when an inquisitive passerby asked him how much wages he received."

"Wages?" said the boy. "I don't get no wages. I get nothin' if I do, and hell if I don't."

JOHN SCHIELE GETS HIS OLD POSITION

John Schiele, recently returned from France, on August 1st will resume his old position in the P. R. R. passenger office as an assistant to the local agent, W. E. Burkholder. Walter Nearhood, who relieved him while he was doing soldier duty, will be transferred to the Clearfield office as an assistant.—Phillipsburg Journal.

MEMBER OF TYLER FAMILY DIES

James Tyler, one of the few remaining members of the pioneer Tyler family, died at the old homestead in Tyler, Huston township, yesterday morning, of acute indigestion. He was near the four score mark and will be buried in the family burying ground at Tyler Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

MOTHER'S PENSIONS THIRD WARD BOYS $5220 PER YEAR FIVE FINE TH

The Clearfield County Mothers' Pension Board met at the Court House today and acted upon many business propositions confronting them.

The recent legislature appropriated something over $5300 for Clearfield county and the schedule for the distribution of this fund among deserving mothers of the county was arranged today.

The Mothers' Pension Board has been doing a wonderful work in Clearfield county but has been sadly handicapped for want of funds, and even now have many more applications than they are prepared to adequately take care of.

All members were present at today's meeting, the membership consisting of the following well known ladies: President, Mrs. Samuel McLaughlin; Vice-President, Mrs. A. E. Leitzinger; Mrs. L. C. Norris, Clearfield; Mrs. W. C. Fugate, Mahanoy; Mrs. W. A. Gould, Schuylkill; Mrs. E. I. Morris and Mrs. D. E. Hibner, Dauphin; Mrs. Helen E. Livingston, of Clearfield, is Secretary of the Board.

The Mothers' Pension law provides that the county shall appropriate an amount equal to what the State allows for this purpose. Therefore the county Commissioners watched the state appropriation this year with the result that there will be $5220 available for the Mothers' Pension Board in Clearfield county during each of the coming two years.

Up to today there were twenty-eight mothers receiving monthly aid from the Board. At today's meeting fourteen more were placed upon the list while the applications of twenty others are filed for investigation.

The increase in this year's appropriation is due in considerable measure to the ravages of the flu last fall and winter.

The recent festival and victory parade, under the auspices and direction of the Third Ward Home Owners' Association, was one of the most successful occasions ever held by the regular body of women.

The amusements were held on a beautiful lawn in front of the new house on West Front street and more than one thousand people were present to participate. Foreman Schiele had a "five wire" committee in charge and they left nothing undone that would add to the enjoyment of the guests.

Ice cream, cake and coffee were daintily served by the ladies, while excellent musical program interspersed the social making.

The West Side Sunday School Chorus added greatly to their already fine reputation by the excellent program they rendered during the evening, while Miss Maude Phillips presided acceptably at the piano as a member of the special functions. Mrs. Helen E. Livingston was the efficient director. Prof. Oscar W. Schneider.

This service opened at 8:15 with a devotional by the orchestra, which was followed by a vocal solo by Miss Helen Turner, who sang "I'm Always Blowing Bubbles." The little soprano an exceptionally sweet voice and made a distinct hit with the fine singing.

Rev. J. E. Gearhart then delivered an impressive invocation, at the conclusion of which the Victory flag was hoisted to the top of the 60 foot pole by Misses Mabel Phillips, Helen Schiele and Helen Deitz. An "Ode to Glory" recited by the boys of the Third Ward Sunday School, and a song by the choir, and a prayer by the pastor, completed the service.

The festival was composed of many other interesting features, including a "Dance of the Olden Time" after which J. E. Gearhart added a little spice with his brilliant solo, "Alphabet Blues." The high school choir, under the direction of Mr. J. E. Gearhart, rendered a pleasing selection after which Miss Mabel Phillips recited "A Burglar Bids" in a manner which stamped her an electionist of real merit.

A male quartette composed of Joe Phillips, Harry Pat, and J. P. Turner, then sang a selection and were forced to respond to two or three encores to let them get away.

Miss George, editor of The Spirit, closed the speech-making with one of his old-time happy efforts, and after the audience had joined in singing America, Chairman Connelly announced the program completed.

The huge assemblage then devoted their attention to the festival and the way that ice cream and cake disappeared, made Treasurer Rollin smile.

The Third Ward boys have every reason to be proud of the way in which the people of their community and the town generally responded to their appeal for patronage. Always among the very first to respond when their services are required the Third Ward fire ladders have added incentive after last night's entertainment to continue to do their best.

The committee of arrangements whose hard work ensured the success of the affair were John Harry, Rex Fauver and Harry Turner, and they with Foreman Rollin and his other eclectic assistants, male and female, are deserving of every praise. Meanwhile that company strong box is "pretty full" this morning, regardless of the town being dry.

The Schroeder Piano Company, whose store is in the Murray building on Second street kindly loaned a handsome piano to the foreman for the evening and their generosity is very much appreciated.

WHEN THE EDITOR COULD TRAVEL SOME

E. J. Floyd, formerly head of the dining car service on the B. & O. Ry., but now in the passenger service as Traveling Passenger Agent, visited Clearfield yesterday in the interest of next Saturday's five-day excursion to Niagara Falls. He found time while here to drop in and look his newspaper friends over, and promised us some time if we could raise the price and go along next Saturday. We are able to dig up the fare alright, but we are compelled to decline the invitation. We base our hope of seeing Niagara on the meagre possibility of a return to those good old days quite some time ago, when we traded the B. & O. P. "truck for truck" and in exchange for our printing the different time tables and other timely information concerning the ramifications of the road, Old Man Huntington would send us a pass and then his companion in crime Sam Griswold would come along and see that we got on the train alright and before leaving at Buffalo would caution us against getting out on the car platform before the train stopped.

They were the good old days, when even the poor country editor got a chance to spruce up on his geography by reading the signs on the stations as the train dashed thru the different towns en route to Niagara and the other glories of Buffalo and the lakes. The Niagara trip is one well worth taking and a lot of Clearfield people intend going Saturday.

John Schiele, recently returned from France, on August 1st will resume his old position in the P. R. R. passenger office as an assistant to the local agent, W. E. Burkholder. Walter Nearhood, who relieved him while he was doing soldier duty, will be transferred to the Clearfield office as an assistant.—Phillipsburg Journal.

James Tyler, one of the few remaining members of the pioneer Tyler family, died at the old homestead in Tyler, Huston township, yesterday morning, of acute indigestion. He was near the four score mark and will be buried in the family burying ground at Tyler Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

An apron is the first article of clothing mentioned in history.

GOVERNMENT SUPPLIES A POOR SALE

The War Department has for some time been engaged in selling carloads of canned meats and vegetables to communities for re-sale to their citizens. DuBois went into the proposition very thoroughly thru their Community Association and solicited orders in case lots from the people of the community. The Community Association was delegated by the city council to handle the matter and the action of the council grew out of the insistence on the part of the people. An avalanche of orders was expected but thus far the Association has received orders for only twelve cases and the whole matter will likely be dropped. Meanwhile Mr. and Mrs. DuBois just like Mr. and Mrs. Clearfielder goes on kicking about the high cost of living but fails to study the market for lowest prices and do not want to take the time to order in case lots or possibly have to go to a car to get their purchases. How we like to complain and how helpless we are in our efforts to help ourselves.

A FEW WORDS FROM A BUSINESS MAN TO BUSINESS MEN

The city editor of the Los Angeles Examiner sent a reporter to interview the head of a business firm which is making a great success with its trade in South America, China and India.
The reporter got three minutes of the man's time and a column story.
Into that three minutes and that column was crowded a good deal of worth-while information and sound advice.
The soundest of the advice was this: "WHEN THERE IS A BIG THING TO GO AFTER AND YOU CAN'T GO YOURSELF, SEND A BETTER MAN."
One of the great mistakes of business is trying to save money. Trying to make a cheap man do a good man's job.
Many a sale has been lost; many a profit has been thrown away because the man sent to do the job wasn't as big as the job required.
In the ordinary walks of life you hire a man to do something because of one of two reasons: Either you do not want to do it better than you can.
The man you pay to cobble your shoes is a better shoemaker than you are.
The man who paints your house is a better painter.
The man who drives your automobile is a better chauffeur.
Why, then, should you hire a man to do business for you who knows less about it than you do?
This does not mean that young men should not be taken in and trained in your business. That is a necessity. But one of New York's best known business men coined for himself and his associates this advice: "You must suit the man to the job, not the job to the man."
The Los Angeles merchant was right, and he has proved it by his success, when he said: "When there is a big thing to go after and you can't go yourself, send a better man."

A Lucky Man
A man is lucky if he lives long enough to see his children well established in homes of their own.
Nearly every man leaves something valuable to those whom he leaves behind.
He knows just where he would like to have this go.
The Clearfield Trust Co., has neither favorites, references nor axes to grind. Its business is to see that every man's property is divided and distributed exactly as instructed in his will.

Germans Trying To Ignore the War Her Imperial Spy System Is Turned Over To The New Republic--Now Attempting Peaceful Penetration

(By United Press)
PARIS. (By Mail).—Germany is seeking to pick up just where she left off in July 1914, and politically, industrially, commercially and economically is trying to act as though the war had never been.

Brazil, the Argentine and all South America may well keep their eyes trained on what is left of the German Empire, for strange stories have reached Paris regarding the goings-on of agents of the new Socialist Republic.

1. They are colonizing Spain as rapidly as they are able.
2. They are buying up land and obtaining various kinds of options in Holland.
3. They are seeking to spread Bolshevik propaganda throughout Allied and friendly countries, using Switzerland as a base.
4. In the Argentine and elsewhere south of the American Equator, they are seeking a foothold in most insidious fashion.

The entire spy organization which existed in Switzerland during the war and which served as the instrument of the German General Staff, has been turned over to the new German government, lock, stock and barrel and now, after a period of inaction, is busier than ever on their new scheme.

Count Brockdorff-Rantzau once said that Bolshevism is a splendid "article of export" for Germany. The organization in Switzerland is attempting that very thing—to export Bolshevism.

"Le Matin's" correspondent telegraphs to his paper that he is in a position to state that a conference was recently held in Zurich at which were present:

Lieutenant Schloess, well known for his work during the war as one of the chiefs of Imperial German General Headquarters; a secretary of the German Legation in Bern; the famous Maroun former Consul Agent in the German service at Agadir, who, throughout the duration of the war, was active in behalf of the German General Staff among the peoples of Islam; the Bolshevik agent, Aaron, an Israelite, naturalized Brazilian; a former Bulgarian agent, named Cohen, married to a French woman.

"This organization," says the correspondent "has at its disposal a large amount of money. It is known that the funds of the Unionist band of Enver Talat, transferred to Switzerland, amount to more than a hundred million francs. To this must be added funds from both the Bolsheviks and the Germans.

"The attention of Aaron is directed principally in the direction of Italy.

"The Islamic propaganda is aimed rather against Algeria and Tunis.
"In short, the government of Schiedemann is continuing the same methods and is practicing the same game of political intrigue as the old Imperial government."

Similar stories have reached France from Spain. The old spy system is in full swing today trying to turn the present political situation in that country to the Teuton's advantage.

Special correspondence from Amsterdam declares that Holland is being absolutely invaded by Germans. "German spies," the special correspondent of a Paris paper declared, "are pouring into Holland just as before the war. On one page of an important local daily newspaper I counted ten German advertisements out of a total of 14."

"During the war," the same writer continued, "the Germans bought the principal sites in large cities for the purpose of putting up cinemas and theatres. And when a Dutch subject opened an exposition of an international character where samples of commercial products were to be exhibited the year round, a German immediately offered to buy up all the space for 50,000 florins so that he might control the exhibits."

South America is not going to escape German influence. Every indication is that the Germans are only waiting until the ink is dry on the peace treaty before making a start in that direction. A dispatch dated from Coblenz, American Army Headquarters, reads: "Letter after letter is passing through the hands of the American military censors telling of the intentions of many Germans to emigrate to South America. Seldom is any mention made in any of them of plans to go to the United States."

Punishment for the girl who flirts has from time immemorial been a sound parental spanking. And testimony is not wanting to show that many a girl has been benefited by the chastisement.

Now, however, a mother arises to remark that her daughter could not have flirted with a wooden Indian or a cigar store sign, and she demands that the father of the party of the second part to the flirtation in which her daughter played the star role escort his son to a room, lock the door and apply the same remedy.

AN APPEAL TO THE CHURCH MEMBERS

Woodland, Pa., July 28, 1919.

You, the members of all the churches, have hired your preachers to proclaim unto you the everlasting gospel, and lead you in the way of godliness. You expect your preacher to hold revival meetings in the winter season and win men from sin to God. Yet many of the church people are constantly making the spread of the righteousness that is by faith impossible by their own works. I speak with regard to what is constantly flung in the teeth of the preachers concerning the desecration of the Sabbath in the picking of huckleberries. Last week a note in The Progress described the huckleberry picking in certain places and added that all churches were represented. Such was the case. Now my friends of all churches, I shall not preach against this as I have been requested to do. But I wish thru the courtesy of The Progress to ask you if it is fair to your preacher, to desecrate the Sabbath in this way and have him preach the sermon that he has prepared in this hot weather, to a few people and many empty pews? Is it fair to the church that you misrepresent in the huckleberry woods on the Sabbath? Is it fair to your own immortal soul. Is it fair to your neighbor to put self first and religion second? If God was displeased with the children of Israel who gathered manna on the Sabbath day, think you that he will be pleased with the member of the church of Jesus Christ who gathers on huckleberries on the Sabbath day? I appeal to your reason, to your heart, in the name of God and the church.

INDEPENDENT REPUBLICANS MEET AT HARRISBURG

HARRISBURG, July 29.—Assembling for the purpose of launching a campaign for the election of delegates favoring a man of the Roosevelt type of statesman for President in 1920 and to discuss ways and means of bringing Republican success over one hundred delegates met here today. Leaders denied that the Washington or Bull Moose party will name a presidential candidate but admitted the need of a man of radical ideas to wrest the nation from Democratic control.

EYE TALK NO. 1

ONE PAIR OF EYES

In a lifetime. Don't neglect or abuse them. Your eyes may need attention. If so go to a competent optometrist and have them thoroughly examined, and get glasses. A good pair of glasses properly fitted will relieve headaches and nerve strain, and when accurately adjusted will bring the desired relief and comfort. The price of glasses varies according to the formula of your lenses. Some require more work to grind or make up than others. But remember, a pair of glasses not properly fitted to the eyes will harm them, no matter what the price may be.

I devote my entire attention to fitting glasses, thereby reducing the cost and not dividing the responsibility that is a part of every pair of right-fitting glasses. My modern equipment enables me to save you money, time and eyes.
